Manage Page Approvals

Page Approvals

Page Approvals allows users to approve or reject pages. There's an icon on top of each page that allows approvers to be managed. When this icon is clicked, a small window will open where users who are allowed at the Space level (explained in more detail in the next few sections) are able to add or remove approvers.

Approvers for the page are also able to approve or reject the pages in this window.

!Diagram of page approval setup

Include both individuals and businesses interested in incorporating wind or solar energy sources into either new or existing construction. SBE has identified two trends that they believe will cause explosive growth in the demand for their products. The first is the continuing energy crisis in the western United States. The second is the maturation of fuel cell technology which provides a feasible system for storing excess power. SBE customers include both individuals and businesses interested in incorporating wind or solar energy sources into either new or existing construction. SBE has identified several trends that they believe will cause explosive growth in the demand for their products. They include the growing...